

EAT IN CHEF

Privacy Policy

Effective Date: September 28, 2015

Last Updated: October 28, 2015

Eat in Chef (the "Company"), is committed to protecting the privacy of its Users (as defined below). This document ("Privacy Policy") outlines what information the Company collects from its Users through <http://eatinchef.com/> (the "Website") and how that information is used. The Company will only keep Users' information which they submit through the Website for internal use.

Revisions to this Policy.

The Company reserves the right to revise, change, amend, alter or modify ("Update") this Privacy Policy and its other policies and agreements at any time and in any manner. From time to time the Company will notify Users via the Website that the Privacy Policy and other policies and agreements have been updated. The User is responsible for reading the Updated policies. Any Updates supersede any prior versions immediately upon posting on the Website. If the User does not agree with the terms of this Privacy Policy, or any updated terms hereto, the sole remedy is to not use the Website.

Information Collected.

The information which the Company collects through the Website may include personally identifiable information ("Personal Information") which refers to information that helps it identify users or viewers of the Website (collectively, "Users" and each a "User"). The Personal Information includes data such as a User's name, street address, phone number, facsimile number, email address, username and password. The Website allows Users to submit Personal Information in order to contact or communicate with the Company. If User contacts the Company through this Website, please note that Personal Information may be maintained by the Website. Users are responsible for keeping all Personal Information current and may change any previously entered information through the Website in the manner set forth below.

The Website may also collect data that cannot be traced back to a specific individual ("Anonymous Information"). For example, the Company may be able to keep count of how many Users have viewed the Website and specific content therein, or key words utilized to find the Website, but this information does not necessarily include information regarding Users' names, street addresses, phone numbers or email addresses. Users who view the Website but do not enter their Personal Information are generally anonymous Users. Only Anonymous Information and no Personal Information will be intentionally collected by the Company from anonymous Users. The Website may use browser cookies to collect Anonymous Information. The Website may also incorporate web beacons or similar tracking technologies to allow the Company to track how the Website is used. Such technologies are used to collect Anonymous Information, e.g. the name of the User's internet service provider, the IP address of the User's computer, User's browser software and operating system, the identity of any linked-from or linked-to website and other similar information. The Company may combine a User's Anonymous Information with similar information collected from other Users to help improve the Website and services.

Company does not know their website host's policies in this regard and makes no representations or warranties regarding the host's use or collection of information about Users. Submitting information via the Internet may not be secure and/or confidential.

Third Party Advertisers and Links to Third Party Websites.

The Website may include advertisements from third-party companies which may include links to third party websites. The advertisements placed by these companies are not affiliated, owned, maintained or updated by the Company. If User visits the website of these third-party advertisers, they may use cookies and/or request and collect User's personal information. The Company does not know of the policies of these independent third-party advertisers and is not responsible for the information collected or how the information is used by any third-party advertisers. The Company also cannot confirm or in any way guarantee the accuracy of the information provided by those third party advertisers on their websites. The Company strongly recommends that User reads and reviews the privacy policies of any other third-party websites that it may view.

Information Sharing.

Except as otherwise provided in this Privacy Policy, the Company will not intentionally distribute, rent or sell a User's personal information to third parties without the User's permission. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Company may share Users' information, including without limitation Personal Information amongst its parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates and other related entities and related websites. The Company may be required by law enforcement or judicial authorities to provide Users' Personal Information to the appropriate governmental authorities. If the Company receives a request from law enforcement or judicial authorities, then it reserves the right to provide the requested information.

Security Procedures.

The Company undertakes reasonable efforts to review its security and privacy policies on a periodic basis and it may adjust and change the systems as necessary. Notwithstanding the above, and although the Company is ever diligent in its security pursuits, it cannot guarantee the success of its efforts.

Special Cases.

It is the Company's policy to not use or share the Personal Information about the Users of the Website in ways which have not been outlined or described herein without first allowing its Users a chance to opt in or otherwise give permission on such unrelated uses. However, the Company may disclose Personal Information about its Users or information relating to their Use of the Website for any reason if, in its sole discretion, it determines that it is reasonable to do so, including:

- (1) To comply with laws, such as the Electronic Communications Privacy Act, regulations or governmental or legal requests for such information;
- (2) To reveal information that is needed to identify, contact or bring legal action against any User who may be violating the terms and conditions of the Website;
- (3) To operate the Website properly;
- (4) To protect the Website and its Users; and/or
- (5) To fully cooperate with law enforcement authorities, private-party litigants and others seeking information about its Users to the extent required by applicable law.

Terms of Service. The Terms of Service set forth on the Website shall govern any claim relating to this Privacy Policy and will otherwise be deemed applicable to it.
